

On Wednesday, March 22nd, Newton Public Schools hosted a forum entitled "Talking to Children About Race: Why & How?" More than 125 parents and guardians from elementary schools across the district attended the event. During the evening, participants had the opportunity to reflect upon their own experiences with race, as well as receive "how-to" help for guiding children and answering challenging questions.

Did you miss the forum but are interested in potential follow up events and activities? Please click here to provide your contact information and indicate your areas of interest.

For more helpful information, resources, and articles, please visit this page on the district website: www.newton.k12.ma.us/Page/2953

We hope to continue the conversation in the coming months and will continue the work we are already doing in our school to explore, respect, and celebrate our differences.